TM Evo: the evolution.

TMirror project, the concept of a cycling short pad with a flat surface and support inserts going in the opposite direction from the standard market offered classical products. This innovative solution combined with the concept HT90 (lateral flaps, shaped 90°) and inserts created with the VFC system has been tested with a large range of professional to amateur athletes. TMirror project meets the demand of athletes of all types of stroke, position and time spent on the saddle.
